W. L. Lee Files for Governor on Democratic Ticket Admitting Support of G. O. P. in 1928.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL ASKED TO RULE

Senator Black Attacks Bars for Candidates But Invitation to Rank and File Voters.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 20 .-Alabama's "Hoovercrats" who "followed their consciences out of the democratic party" last fall today opened their battle against the action of the state's democratic executive committee in barring as candidates all those who failed to support or vote for the party's presidential nominee.

While the state's senior United States senator, J. Thomas Hellin, was not directly represented in the proceedings, it was generally concede that the strategy had been outlined by the senator, who was himself barred because of his vocal opposition to the democratic ticket in November,

The first attack upon the action of the committee which barred candidates but permitted "bolting voters" to return to the party ranks, provided they swear to support the democratic nominees in the general election, was institilted by Will Lee, of Columbiana. who announced his candidacy for governor. Mr. Lee stumped the state for Hoover last fall and admits having voted for republican electors. But he filed as a democrat and said that if his name was not printed on the democratic ballot he would take the matter to the courts for decision as to the right of the committee to bar

Bibb Graves. From Washington came word that Senator Black would also challenge the action of the committee. And from Rirmingham came news of the official launching of the independent campaign of Huge Locke, leader of campaign of Trage Locks, teader of the "Hoovercrats" in 1928, who was barred by the committee.

Simultaneously the question was seriously raised today whether the action of the democratic executive committee—admittedly aimed solely at Hoovercoat candidates—had not automatically barred every democratic matically barred every democratic in vogue, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who predicts a minimum figure this morning of approximately 15 degrees to be followed by a maximum of about 32.

Practically no complaints were registered at the local bureau Friday because the mercury missed by 3.2 degrees the anticipated low reading of 10. This mark was lower by two-tents of a degree than the season's previous record minimum of 13.8.

If the mercury in the official thermometer will be a little too low today for absolute comfort, this will be offset to some extent by clear skies and the absence of chilling breezes, Mr. von Herrmann promises. He anticipates gradually rising temperatures for the next few days with a Sunday maximum of a few degrees above the freezing point. It is a little too early to predict weather conditions for Christmas, he stated.

Winter's third assault on the south caused three deaths and frigid temperatures prevailed, though minimums were expected to be higher throughout the area today except on the Atlantic senboard.

The deaths included Will Perry, a 50-year-old farmer, who fell into the icy waters of Fourche river at Perryville, Ark., and died shortly after being pulled out by neighbors: a 65-year-old negro who froze to death at Little Rock, Ark., while walking in his sleep, and an unidentified Mexican at Shreveport, La.

Narcotic Agents Raid Residence

through the office of the adjutant here.

Selection of Captain Sirmon over several candidates for the vacant adjutant's post caused the executive committee to transfer the headquarters to Atlanta.

The new adjutant is well known in service circles. He is a former commander of the Argonne post, Atlanta, and in 1924 was a member of the state executive committee. He also is a former editor of the Atlanta Legionnaire. His war record includes the distinguished service cross of the United States and the Legion of honor and Croix de Guerre, with palms, awards from the French government.

time in three days and arrested two men and one woman, uncovered approximately $100 worth of morphine and recovered $15 in marked money which they stated had been used in purchasing evidence. The first raid had netted four arrests and about the same amount of dope.

Peg Allen, who is said to have served "time" for previous offenses of a similar nature, fell into the net both times. Arrested Wednesday, he was released on his own bond and was again taken into custody Friday when officers testified that he had been instrumental in making a sale of morphine. Allen faced Judge Samuel H. Sibley in United States court here in September and pleaded guilty to a violation of the Harrison narcotic act but imposition of sentence was deferred for three months. It was stated Friday that he would be sentenced on this charge this morning.

Hulda Renfroe was one of the quartet arrested Wednesday. Friday the officers took into custody Carlos Renfroe, her 19-year-old son, who, it was charged, smuggled a quantity of morphine to his mother while she was being held at the federal building before being taken to the Fulton county tower.

Mattie Couch was the third of the

Mattie Couch was the third of the trio arrested Friday. She told the court that she had been using "dope" for more than 30 years and had served two prison terms. Her bond was set at $2,000, Allen's at $2,000 and Renfroe's at $1,000.

GIFFORD PINCHOT EXPECTS TO REACH SAVANNAH TODAY

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 20.—(P)—Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, is expected to reach Savannah tomorrow with Mrs. Pinchot to meet the schooner Mary Pinchot, which is coming up from the south seas. Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot will spend several days in Savannah.

Service Board Allows

Permission to temporarily continue operation of an additional bus schedule daily to and from Gainesville to Atlanta, was granted the Independent Coach Line Company, of Asheville, N. C., at a hearing before the Georgia public service commission Friday morning in Macon, it was announced by W. L. Massie, president of the company.

Inauguration of the additional bus schedule, which nounced by W. L. Massie, president of the company.

Inauguration of the additional schedule, which was begun December 15, was at the request of citizens of Gainesville, said Mr. Massie.
Harry P. Cooper, attorney of Murphy, N. C., and mayor of that city, represented the company at the hearing.

ing.

The commission Friday granted permission for the operation of the schedule until January 7, when the matter will be heard for final settlement at a hearing in Atlanta.

Under the additional schedule, a bus leaves Gainesville at 8 o'clock each morning, arriving at 10 o'clock in Atlanta. Returning at 5:30 o'clock, the bus arrives at Gainesville at 7:30. This new schedule will give adequate time for persons to come to Atlanta and transact business, said Mr. Massie.

With the inauguration of the schedule, the company now operates three busses to and from Atlanta via Gainesville each day. The commission also on January 7 will pass upon applications of the Queen City Coach Line Company for a rearrangement of their present operating schedules, James A. Perry, chairman of the commission, stated

Tom Will Make State street. The state superintender New Plea Today For Gang Term

BY T. K. JONES.

The Yuletide may yet be a merry one for "Hog Feeding" Tom McGee. The refusal Thursday afternoon of Police Recorder Murphy Holloway to commit him to the River convict prison camp—where he has spent seven terms of voluntary confinement—has not assauged his desire to return there—and today Tom will again face his honor for a second and more eloquent plea.

honor for a second and more eloquent plea.

Tired and hungry after plodding the streets all day, and perplexed at the recorder's unwillingness to send him back to the camp "where he was always happy feeding the hogs and where the warden and guards alike befriended him, Tom approached Patrolman Robert Malone at Forsyth and Marietta streets early Friday night and asked to be locked up.

At first denied his request the circumstances were explained—minutely, pittifully, and the kindly officer "sent him down" so that he might again try to convince the judge that McGee is badly needed in a county convict camp.

the Southern, Atlantic Coast Line and the Illinois Central railroads, under a new grouping of railroad properties proposed by the interstate commerce commission in its consolidation plan, according to a copyrighted dispatch sent out Friday by the Washington bureau of Dow, Jones & Co. Under the plan, said to be intended as a guide for ultimate grouping of the railroads, it is expected that the Illinois Central will get the Central of Georgia, and that the Wabash system will be brought into this area through acquisition of the Seaboard Air Line and consolidation with the Illinois.

The Southern railway would acquire the Louisville & Nashville. In addition to acquisition of these railroads which come into Georgia or connect with Georgia lines, the major trunks also would get other lines.

Officials of the railroads which would be affected by the plan said they have not been advised of it, and have no comment to make, for anything they might say would be pure speculation.

waited, for it was useless to follow. Great big men, polite but firm, ruled that it was a night for "men only" at Davison-Paxon Company, and therefore from 6 until 9 o'clock the big department store was for their exclusive patronage only. The guards, stationed at all entrances, turned the eager, rampant and just plain curious ladies back into the street.

Papa bought Ma's Christmas present and the young blade bought his girl's gift, undisturbed by the insidious thought that he might be caught in the act at any moment. Salesladies wore printed ribbons across their breasts telling the men, "Here's Help," and they advised many a stammering man what his lady friend might like for Santa to bring. Married men unblushingly purchased filmy unmentionables for the better half without the critical eye of his friend's wife upon him.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad To a Flapper Daughter By Robert Quillen —

My dear Louise: When Friday comes and you can take life easy without fear of a humiliating scene in the class room next day, it is your practice to relieve the monotony of home life by reading fiction.

A little fiction won't harm you, if it's decent, but the habit of nibbling sweets spoils the appetite for dinner—and dinner is needed to make the wheels go 'round.

Yesterday a mother came to my office and asked me to give her boy a b. He isn't yet out of high school, but she thought he could absorb education by working in a newspaper office.

Many people have that idea, but it's a mistake.

A boy who quits school in the eleventh grade, as your old dad did, can absorb a fair education by working among newspaper men if he will go to his room after supper and study until bedtime—and keep at it 365 days in the year for a period of 25 years.

But that is the only way. You won't have an education when you finish high school, and you n't have an education when you graduate from college. In fact, if you finish college with the belief that you are "educated," and there close your acquaintance with books as most college students do, you never will know what it's all about and you will be too dumb to

The ignorance of college graduates who know nothing more than they learned in college is so complete and so pathetic as to make their diplomas seem a cruel joke.

In school you merely learn how to learn.

If the prize is on the other side of the river, the fellow who won't swim is just as far from it as the fellow who can't. Your only chance to know anything and be anything is to get knowl edge—to learn and learn and learn. And since the schools can't give you more than the first thin layer of knowledge, you must make books your best friends if you would avoid being a tiresome ignoramus.

That's the truth, Honey—the plain, unvarnished truth. And I am giving you this warning because you can't learn good manners if you associate with bums.

Your tastes haven't jelled yet. You can learn to enjoy respectable companions, or you can learn to enjoy shallow and foolish ones.

And you can learn to enjoy good books, or you can learn to enjoy vile and silly ones.

You can't run with both crowds. If you cultivate one you lose the other. And if you get the habit of reading trash, you never will enjoy worth-while books and never will enjoy the companionship of worth-while people. Love.

Health Talks BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

A LIFE SAVING POSTURE. A little clinical twist of the wrist or bedside trick that very few of our modern overeducated doctors know is the value of posture in the relief of many cases of chronic bronchitis, emphysema, bronchiectasis and other conditions in which cough and expectoration are troublesome. Many of the patients are getting along in years in hence difficult to teach new tricks, but a good doctor should not hesitate to prescribe whatever he thinks the patient should have, even unto standing grandma on her ear. The trick is this: Every morning and every night the patient should either stand on his head for a while, or if too feeble or dignified to attempt that, than just lean out of bed and rest the hands on the floor. This posture should be retained for at least five minutes. Often it enables the of expectoration from the chest, with a few coughing spells. After that the patient may get up or be lifted back into bed. The main trouble with a remedy like this is that it is so simple that the average chronic invalid will not take it half as seriously as will not take it half as seriously as he does the latest nostrum from the Hokum Laboratories, Ltd.

In epidemics of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) there are generally a few cases of what doctors call the bulbar type in which the paralysis involves the muscles of breathing and the muscles of swallowing. Though these cases are distressing enough, there is usually a good chance that the paralysis will clear up in a week to two weeks if the patient does not suffocate or drown in his own secretions before the acute stage of illness is over.

breath and inability to expectorate At least such invalids may assume the prone posture part of the time, without pillow, turning the head to-ward one side. Then while they are in this posture any attendant may raise the foot of the bed on blocks a foot or less in height. But even if the patient lies on a horizontal plane, the prone posture, with nothing under the prone posture, with nothing under head, favors the clearing of any material from the breathing passages.

Of course if you lift the subject's head even an inch or two, you defeat the purpose of this posture.

That's samething very few Boy Scouts know, because they are almost universally taught to put something under the subject's forehead when applying artificial respiration by the prone-pressure method.

Alabama state democratic committee to bar from the next party primary candidates who failed to support the national ticket last year was challenged today by Senator Black, democrat. Alabama.

The decision would exclude Senator Hefin, of Alabama, from running for renomination on the democratic ticket when he comes up for re-election next year but Senator Black, in a formal statement, made no reference to his colleague.

While questioning the legality of the committee action, Black said the "courts should not be called upon to settle a question upon which there can be no reasonable grounds for disagreement."

Air mail schedules looked pretty good at the close of business Friday afternoon, despite the extremely cold weather, which must have made the filers' lives miserable. Four of the ships were right on the dot and the other quartet were not much out of line. As for commercial operations, however, things were almost at a standstill. Few students were hardy enough to build up their "time" in the face of the frigid blasts and even fewer cash customers came out to be flown about. By Sunday, the big day for the commercial operators, the weatherman has promised a decided rise in temperatures.

National Banks Are Urged To Extend Branch System As Aid to Agriculture

Comptroller of Currency, in Annual Report, Says Branches Would Bring Farmer Greater Protec-

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 .- (A)-Urging the extension of branch banking by national banks as a way to assure a safe and sound system to rural communities. John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, said in his annual report today that such a development would be of advantage to agricultural communities.

agricultural communities.

At the same time the comptroller pointed to the growth of group benking, in which holding companies have acquired the stock of several banks, and the defections of banks from the national field to seek broader privileges under state laws as reasons why the national bank laws must be liberalized.

He said that total resources of all of the 25,330 banks in the country on last June 30 aggregated $72,172,505,000, an increase of $598,177,000 over the previous year. National banks numbering 7,506 were shown to have total resources of $27,440,228,000, a decrease of $1,088,000,000, while the number of all banks had decreased in the year by $83.

On the question of bank failures Pole said that no "important failures" had occurred among banks in the larger cities between last January 1 and November 1 and that "whereas a depositor in a large city bank, whether a wage earner of a businessman, has had full protection, the depositor in the small country bank has suffered severely from the inability of so many banks to meet their deposit liabilities.

"It is cause for immediate concern that the operating conditions faced by country banks show no prospect of improvement under the present system. There are many country banks now operated at a loss and many others operating upon earnings insufficient to justify their capital investment.

"Comprehensive study of the banking situation for the past nine years clearly indicates that the system of banking in rural communities has broken down through causes beyond the control of the individual banker of the local community."

Pole said that the causes were of a basic nature due largely to the fact that independent local utility and industrial organizations have moved toward a stronger and more centralized form of operation which has curtailed the country bank's opportunity for diversifying and extending their business.

Because of this, he said, group banking had sprung up with local holding companies controlling the stock in a group of banks. To remedy this situation he urged that national banks be permitted to have branches within their trade areas but not beyond the limits of the federal reserve district in which they are situated. Such legislation he said must be such as to give the national banks advanged.

Such legislation he said must be such as to give the national banks advantage over state banks.

"The announced legislative policy of the so-called McFadden bank act of February 25, 1927, was parity between the national and state systems." Pole continued. "The purpose of the bill was to make the charter powers of national banks approximately equal in operating advantage to those of in operating advantage to those of state banks. Nearly three years of operation under that act has demon-strated that it has failed of its purpose country."

Pole also recommended that congress enact laws to bring the holding companies for group banking under federal supervision.

OPERATION FATAL TOMRS.POINDEXTER, WIFE OF EX-SENATOR

ORANGE, Cal., Dec. 20.—(P)—
Elizabeth Gale Poindexter, whose writing on social affairs in the national capital aroused much comment while her husband was United States senator from Washington, died here early today after a major operation. She was 63 years old.

With her when she died were her son, Lieutenant Commander Gale Poindexter, U. S. N., and two sisters, Mrs. May Jorgenson and Mrs. Charles Morton, of Santa Ana. Former Senator Miles Poindexter had been summoned by wire but will not reach here until Sunday.

Mrs. Poindexter came here a fortnight ago from Washington, P. C., to visit her sisters and suffered an unexpected abdominal illness which made the operation advisable.

Before her husband was named ambassador to Peru and she went with him to South America, Mrs. Poindexter published a series of articles giving her views on the social life in Washington, social precedence and such questions. The articles aroused considerable discussion. Since her return from Peru her pen had been idle but she figured last summer in a dispute with the first counsellor of the Peruvian embassy in Washington, Alfredo Gonzales Prada, because the diplomat hired two servants the Poindexters had brought back with them from Peru.

FATE OF DEPUTIES IN HANDS OF JURY FOR MANY HOURS

BURNSVILLE, N. C., Dec. 20.—
(P)—The fate of eight deputy sheriffs on trial here for second degree murder of six men rested in the hands of a jury tonight. Hours after the jury began its deliberations at 11:20 o'clock this morning no verdict had been reached.

o'clock this morning no verdict had been reached.

The deputies are on trial here on a change of venue from Marion where officers and strikers at a cotton mill clashed in the early daylight hours of October 2.

Judge G. V. Cowper, of Kinston, presiding over a special term of court, ordered by Governor O. Max Gardner, delivered a 40-page charge to the jury this morning. The nine farmers, two loggers and a carpenter who compose it began their deliberations immediately.

No intimation of the position of the jury came from the room to which it retired as the afternoon waned.

The measure was introduced by Senator George last session in an effort to expedite the work of receiverships.

Chairman Norbeck, of the committee, announced today that he would call attention of the body to the treasurer recommendation.

Lighted Trees Will Carry SOVIET AMBASSADOR

The Prince of Wales Accepts the First Emissary Since War.

Six new messengers of yuletide joy were created Friday!

Six handsome trees, rigged with electric lights blazed with twinkling colors on local lawns to add their bit to the spirit of Christmas cheer.

Those who lighted living trees were: Mrs. John Lynch, of 264 Cambridge road, Decatur; Mrs. A. T. Deckner, of 1500 Stewart avenue, S. W.; Mrs. E. L. Smith, of 1469 Stewart avenue, Since War.

LONDON. Dec. 20.—(A)—The Prince of Wales today received K. Sokolnikov, new soviet ambassador to Great Britain, in the audience chamber of St. James' palace, one room of which will be used in the forthcoming naval conference. The soviet ambassador, who is the first of the communist Russian regime to Great Britain, presented the official credentials of his post.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—(P)—
The body of a man identified as John C. Waterbury, of 791 Park avenue, New York, was found today along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in Weehawken, N. J., shortly after a passenger train had passed.

At Mr. Waterbury's home it was said that he was presumably en route back to the city today from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where he had been on business for several days.

Mr. Waterbury was president of the Waterbury Company of 63 Park row. He was married and has two children.

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 20.—(P)—A complete survey of Georgia's system of higher education will be made by a committee of the Alumni Society of an announcement from the alumni office here today.

The committee, appointed by the board of managers of the Alumni Society, comprises Phillip R. Weltner, and the Waterbury Company of 63 Park row. He was married and has two children. It was suggested that delay in presentation of the soviet minister's credenials may have been due to disinclination of King George to receive personally a representative of the government which he holds responsible for deaths of the former czar and the Russian imperial family, his blood relatives.

The TURKEY DINNER.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

There's nothing more uncertain than The certainty on which you plan.

Reddy Fox.

It is curious how in this world things turn out so differently from what is expected. Just take the case of Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy and Hooty the Owl. All three had planned and schemed for a turkey dinner. How he did enjoy it! When he had finished there was nothing left but feathers. He had the was doing. So at last they had led him to a certain farm where turkeys roosted every night in an apple tree.

Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had thought themselves could be deady to eat and so he had taken to roaming, just as Reddy had. Yowler often goes close to buildings when there are no dogs around and yowler to this barr hoping to catch a rat. Instead he arrived just in time for a turkey dinner. How he did enjoy it! When he had finished there was nothing left but feathers. He had Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had thought themselves equally clever. because they had led Hooty there without letting him know that they knew he was following. Then Hooty had brought down one of those turkeys from up in that apple tree—a thing that Reddy and Mrs. Reddy could not do, for you know they cannot climb. Being two to one, they had taken that turkey away from Hooty. And while Reddy had been fighting with Hooty, Mrs. Reddy had sarried the turkey under the barn, where they planned to eat it.

It was rather rough on Hooty to bave that turkey taken away from him in that manner and, of course, it even crunched the bones. His stomach in that manner and, of course, it filled him with very great rage. He had been absolutely sure of that turkey dinner and just as he was beginning to make ready to eat it, it had been taken away from him. Just where that turkey had been taken he didn't see, for Mrs. Reddy had carried it off while she and Reddy had been fighting.

Under the barn Mrs. Reddy and Reddy prinned at each other across the body of that turkey. They were about to have a feast. "Now," said Reddy, "for the finest dinner in the world."

"I'll eat for you," said another

"I'll eat for you," said another voice. It was a most unpleasant voice. It was a voice that made the hair stand up the backs of Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. They sprang away from the turkey and as they did so, Yowlet the Bob Cat stepped forward and planted his two big front feet on the turkey. Then he looked at Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl it was! Then he looked at Mrs. Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl as that was! Then he looked at Mrs. Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl as yellowed at Mrs. Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl as "I'll eat for you," said another

Then he looked that Mrs. Reddy and snarled on, such an ugly-sounding snarl as that was!

Reddy and Mrs. Reddy backed away. They did a little snarling themselves, but it was feeble compared with the snarls of Yowler the Bobcat. Yowler suddenly turned away from the turkey and took two or more steps toward them. Once more he drew back his lips to show all his great teeth, and snarled. This was too much for Reddy and man sa safed. This was too much for Reddy and man the more is the nearest woods as fast as this; egs would take them. #### SEEK TO RECOVER TAXES PAID UNDER LAW LATER VOID

MACON, Ga., Dec. 20.—(49)—Litigation to recover special occupation taxes said to have been paid to the state for 1928 and 1929 under a law which later was declared void by the Georgia supreme court was begun in Bibb superior court today by eight lumber dealers of middle Georgia.

lumber dealers of middle Georgia.

The action was directed against Usher T. Winslett, who, as tax collector of Bibb county, is said to have forced payment of the tax under threat of prosecution for a misdemeanor for failure to comply with the law.

Each of the eight litigants asks judgment against Mr. Winslett of $200, the amount paid by them for the two years of tax.

5200, the amount paid by them for the two years of tax.

'The act which provided the special tax was effective in January, 1928, and Mr. Winslett demanded payment. The eight firms in the present liti-gation paid under protest, they said, because they had been threatened with prosecution for failure to pay.

Santa, Shy on Dolls, Replenishes Supply

A startling piece of news was un-carthed in Atlanta Friday. Santa Claus supply of dolls is growing claus' supply of dolls is growing short!

This need not mean however, that little girls who are expecting them need fear that they wou't have their wish fulfilled. It simply means that apparently Santa has answered all letters for dolls and that all available have been set aside for the little ones who have written him.

At least, that is the interpretation placed upon a visit of Santa Claus to The Constitution's circulation department Friday. A figure nattily attired in a red suit, white fur and plenty of whiskers walked into the doll and wagon department of The Constitution and, presenting his two subscriptions, walked out with a doll.

It was assumed that all orders for dolls placed with Santa have been filled and that some tot, late in filing his request, was being provided for. Though the supply in Santa's workshop evidently has been spoken for in advance, the action of Old Saint Nick Friday shows that even late requests will be answered and that no effort is being spared to give all homes of good little boys and girls a visit Christmas Eve.

March Movement, from "Lenore Symphony" Raff Polonaise Beethoven Impressions d'Italie Carpentier Dreams, from "Tristan and Isolde", Wagner The Morning Papers Strauss

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(P)— The annual supply bill of the agricul-ture department carrying three amend-ments which increased its total to $153,284,000, was passed by the house by six master composers make up the General Electric Hour which Walter Damrosch and his symphony orchestra will broadcast over WSB and the N.B.C. coast-to-coast system tonight at 8 o'clock.

Floyd Gibbons, journalist and author, will give another talk on "Adventures in Science."

The effect produced in the mind of a musician when he peruses the columns of the morning newspapers is interpreted in Strauss' "The Morning Papers."

Joseph Joachim Raff, a composer who knew the sorest hardships of poverty, produced the "Lenore" symphony founded on a poem by Burgess. It tells a tale of love, separation and reunion. The famous "March" portrays the separation of the lovers through war. The orchestra will offer this movement.

The program follows:

This item was one that figured in an assertion by Chairman Wood, of the appropriations committee, that "impractical men" in the agriculture department were the cause of the waste of millions of dollars annually waste of millions of dollars annually in attempting to exterminate plant pests. He said that extermination of pests was impossible, adding that they might be checked or prevented from spreading, but could not be climinated.

The weather bureau will receive $4,058,600, an increase over last year of $555,200 to permit the establishment of forecast service for air lines ment of forecast service for air lines in the middle and far western and southwestern states.

The measure is the last of the agriculture bills to be handled by Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee for agriculture, who has become a candidate for senator in Iowa.

Representative Buchanan, of Texas. ranking democrat on the subcommit-tee, told the house that he regretted to see the Iowan leave the commit-tee as he "has ever acted in the in-terest of agriculture in every section of our country."

The Texan said Dickinson had never let politics influence his action in that committee," and described the Lowan as "honest, capable and faithful."

As the Twin and Moving Picture Title Contest reaches its conclusion, The Atlanta Constitution takes this means of congratulating the winners. This contest was, as is well understood by all contestants, or at least should be, a contest among contestants. The Constitution neither had nor has any interest in any individual or sets of individuals participating in the contest, all prizes having been won on the merit of the answers determined by the mathematical accuracy of the solutions submitted.

Those who entered the contest and failed to win a prize just failed to submit answers of sufficient merit as compared with others submitted by other contestants to win a prize, and have no one to blame but themselves in failing to submit an answer of greater merit.

Even as the final word is written, requests are being made by many persons for another contest of a similar nature. These requests are from persons who did not win a prize. If any contestant or anyone interested in contests has any suggestions to make with reference to a future contest, the Contest Dept. of The Atlanta Constitution will be glad to receive same in writing.

The proposed reduction was voted by the county commission Wednesday as a means of cutting down the county it's expenses.

The proposed reduction was voted by the county commission that their meeting Friday took the stand that they can operate their courts with the full quota of 24 bailiffs but do not know whether or not the sheriff can carry out his duties in the courts with the sheriff, was adopted. It follows:

"Copy of resolution to the effect that the judges of the superior court had heretofore stated to the finance committee that the courts of Fulton county could operate and function with the services of 24 bailiffs, and that the number of bailiffs now serving could be reduced to that number, having been received we wish to state to co-operate of the supervisors Friday that the reaction to the office of the Foundation was most gratifying, and expressed confidence that the finance committee evidently misunderstood the statement of the judges.

"It is true that the courts may operate with the services of only 24 men in the courtrooms, but our understanding of the statement of the judges, as made by the spokesman, the senior judge of this court, was that it would be advisable for us to retain the officers now serving in the courts, numbering 24, but that if the commissioners should see fit to reduce this number in spite of our recommendation, we would undertake to operate the courts with fewer officers serving in the courthouse. It was stated that it would be impossible for us, as judges, to advise the commissioners as to how many men the sheriff would need for outside work and services, and we suggested that the finance committee confer with the sheriff as to the number of men he would need on the outside.

"We repeat our recommendation that the 24 bailiffs now serving in the courts be retained."

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees but not very graciously. When she thears that he has just lost his job she scolds him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost one job after another he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an Income from a frast-fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses out tells her he is going out of Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the ontitle of the string with him and breaks the ontitle of the string with him and breaks the ontitle of the string with him and breaks the ontitle of the string with him and breaks the ontitle of the string with him and breaks the ontitle of the string he meets Anne Ames who is on her way to hollywood with a letter in introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before asying goodby in Utah, John Andrew tells Anne he will see her in Los Angeles in a short time.

Arrived in San Francisco John Andrew meets an old school friend on the street.

INSTALLMENT XII. AN ACCIDENT.

John Andrew said thoughtfully, You selling cars, Pete?"

Where can you get anything better than a Mercury? Take the cabriolet, now; that's just the model for you. Wire wheels. Upholstery of the front compartment two-toned mohair, or broadcloth if you prefer. Instruments, including bydrostatic gasoline gauge Merrian and engine thermometer, grouped in an indirectly illuminated panel framed

"Show case on wheels," John Andrew saw. "Very nice for a lady, but I can't see a closed car-"

Merriam's cheeks showed Kellogg how much it hurt to take the money, and also how glad he was to get it.

He was, he told hintself anew, the Scotchman who quit playing golf when he lost his ball. Fifty was the limit. No more. Nothing. Not a cent. Millions for inventions, but not one penny for helping fellows out... that is, over and above the fifty.

The Mercurys were installed, each car at right angles from its mates, in something like a Greco-Moorish palace.

"There she is," Merriam said profoundly. "Look at her, Mr. Kellogg! Is that a car?"
"Not bad," John Andrew admitted.

"There she is," Merriam said profoundly. "Look at her, Mr. Kellogg! Is that a car?"

"Not bad," John Andrew admitted.
"I've seen worse."

"She's mounted on the long wheelbase, Mr. Kellogg. It offers you better than eight miles an hour. Look at this compartment for holding golf bags. Here's another locked compartment for tools or . . er . . anything. Cigaret lighter's right on the instrument hoard. Look at that body!

You bet it's custom built; not a finer car made in America today. That's senuine jade green leather. Chromium plated. Shocks built into the frame. Don't she look fast?"

"Um," John Andrew said. As a man with carnation in the button hole of his gray suit sauntered toward them, he added, "Not a bad little job. If I could really believe all you tell

"Let me introduce you to Mr. Henderson . . . Mr. Kellogg, of the New York Kelloggs . . . old friend of mine suggest that you take the car out and try it—"

"I've driven Mercury's before,"
John Andrews said. "Still have sticking clutches?"
"Mr. Merriam should have explained to you that we have the easiest—the easiest clutch on any automobile now, sir. A child could operate it. Just a mere touch of the finger . . . you are interested in this custom built job?"
"I may be," John Andrew said.

"I may be," John Andrew said.
"Possibly within thirty days."
"If you want this particular car,
I wouldn't wait; I really wouldn't," Despite the necessity to see that old Pete was kept on good terms with his superior, John Andrew said, "You aren't doing the buying. I am." To soften this, he added. "Run her off the floor here, and I'll see what I think of it."

"He waited while Henderson apparently gave his salesman minute and detailed instructions as to the best speed, the engine humming with joy

"Don't know your traffic rules

"I'll tell you what to do at inter-sections. Only way to know a car is to drive it yourself."

"Keep along this street, Andy; we'll go out to the ocean, and then you can let her out a little. Won't hurt the engine. They're made to do 60 the day you take 'em off the floor way to make an immediate sale of the roadster; the green car was pushed through the rear of the pillared room, and brought by a mechanic to the street in front of the salon. A touch of silk cloth here and there on the polished body; a final hum of the engine, and it was pronounced ready to be shown.

"The buzzard knew I'd had a drink," Merriam said, as he took the driver's seat. "Just because one or two knocks him on his ear"—sliding the car into gear swiftly—"he doesn't realize that there're gentlemen left in the world . . . doesn't she pick up nicely? Listen to that engine! Now"—swinging around a corner—"here's a real San Francisco hill; I've got her throttled down to ten, but she'll hit 40 before we get to the top . . ."

Shortest Day in This Year Prominent Atlantans Anne E. West Faculty Gives Filled With Social Gaieties

Although the sun in its ecliptic course south passes the winter solstice today, bringing to the December calendar the shortest day in the year, the social festivities will be in no wise affected by the early coming of darkness, as there will be much entertaining. Among the most prominent of the Yuletide visitors are General and Mrs. Wallace Wright, of Plymouth, England, for whom their aunt, Miss Louise Fitten, will be hostess at a dinner at the Piedmont Driving Club dinner-dance this evening, assembling some thirty members of the young married set to meet them. assembling some thirty members of the young married set to meet them. General Wright is a very distinguished member of parliament whose soldierly record during the World War was a credit to the British army. Mrs. Wright was the gracious Miss Flora Bewick, daughter of Mrs. Edward T. Donnelly, of Atlanta, and belongs to an aristocratic Georgia family, and their visit here will turnish inspiration for a series of social and their visit here will turnish inspiration for a series of social social series. affairs. Foretelling the approval of the Yuletide season is the arrival of lovely schoolgirls, happy to lay aside the cares of college and university training and enter into the festivities marking their vacation period. # THAN SOUTHERN FRUIT CAKE

IT CERTAINLY solves a lot of problems on your Christmas list to give your friends and family Southern Fruit Cakes. Give one to Aunt Sue, who disapproves of perfume; to Cousin Jane, who is such an expert at cookery herself and will especially appreciate the virtue of this cake. Or to those inconvenient mer who don't smoke.

You can buy them in sizes from one pound up to five pounds, and the larger ones come in wonderful tins. And you may be certain it soon will be all eaten up. For never was there a cake so popular. Into it go the finest ingredients the world affords. Citron from Italy and spices from far-off tropic lands. Marvelous cherries from the finest orchards of France. Pineapple from Hawaii. And, in the light fruit cake, quantities of our own southern pecans.

Truly you could find no more welcome gift. Nor one more certain to please anyone to whom you give it. You can buy Southern Fruit Cake, either light or dark, at nearly any grocer's, stricted by unfavorable weather and bad road conditions. Hay is in good demand, but the market has weakened slightly under larger offerings of only fair quality hay. The output of wheat feeds is fairly large for the time of the year and offerings are easily adequate to current market requirements. Prices of wheat feeds declined slightly with demand less active.

Cotton seed meal offerings are only moderate, but demand is also light and the market is rather weak. Thirty-six per cent protein meal was quoted at Atlanta, December 17, at $33.50, and 41 per cent meal at Memphis at $37.00 per ton. Hulls were in fair demand and were quoted at $9.50 per ton at Atlanta.

The corn market has held fairly steady during the week. Bad roads have restricted marketings and daily offerings at most markets were only about sufficient for current demand, which has continued moderately active from feeders, shippers and mixed-feed manufacturers. A large percentage of the arrivals recently have contained rather heavy moisture and these grades have been slightly in excess of demand at times. On December 17, No. 2 white corn was quoted, delivered at Atlanta from the west, at $1.12.1-2, and local corn at, $1.07-1.10 per bushel. No. 2 white corn was quoted at Kansas City at 86-88c. No. 3 white corn at 83-85c and No. 3 mixed at 82-83 1-2c per bushel. Oats prices are holding about unchanged—with No. 2 white quoted at Atlanta from the west, at prices are holding about unchanged—with No. 2 white quoted at Atlanta December 17 at 60 3-4c and No. 3 white at Kansas City at 441-2-45c per bushel.

Hay markets turned slightly easier during the week as a result of mild.

centage of damaged hay, which is in rather slow demand.

Set Good No. 2 timothy was wanted at Atlanta and Birmingham and was quoted at the former market at $22.00-22.50 and at the latter at $21.00-22.50 per ton. No. 1 clover was quoted at Atlanta at $22.00 and No. 1 alfalfa per ton. No. 1 clover was quoted at Atlanta at $22.00 and No. 1 alfalfa at $35.00-39.00 per ton. No. 1 clover was quoted at Birmingham at $22.00, No. 1 alfalfa at $36,00-38.00, and No. 1 Johnson at $18.00-19.00 per ton on basis of United States grades.

volume and the market soon turned easier.

The census report showing 13,461,-630 bales ginned prior to December 13 against 13,144,333 last year, appeared to be about in line with expectations, but there was a little southern selling here and after the initial demand had been supplied prices turned easier. A few stop-orders were uncovered on the declines which followed and which extended to 16.75 for December. 17.05 for March and 17.29 for May in the late trading, or about 15 to 18 points net lower.

Closing quotations were a few points up from the lowest on trade buying and covering.

Liquidation of January contracts in anticipation of notices next week was considerably in evidence during the day, and there was a good deal of switching from near to late months.

At times January showed relative weakness, but closing prices showed comparatively little change in differences between months.

Cable advices from Liverpool said there had been hedging and liquidation in that market early, but that prices had steadied later on covering. Locally trade demand was reported more active around 17.30 for May and was referred to as a steadying factor in the late trading.

RALLIES, THEN LOSES.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20.—(P)—
Opening steady along with the even tenor of foreign cables, the cotton market here today was little affected by the census bureau's announcement of 13,461,630 running bales ginned to December 13 and gradually dropped to the lows of the season on holiday liquidation, a lower stock market and bearish weekly mill takings.

By early afternoon prices had declined 20 to 22 points from the opening figures and continued to drop in late trading, reaching the lows for the season of 22 to 25 points below the early highs. The close was a shade above the lows.

January opened at 16.90, up 3 points, declined to 16.66, a drop of 25 points, and closed at 16.8s, or 19 points net lower for the day. The general market closed steady at net declines of 13 to 20 points. Liverpool came in unchanged to one point lower and first trades were unchanged to three points up. Prices soon eased off through the lack of sustaining support and the holiday advance and by the end of the first hour January traded at 16.81, March at 17.10, and May at 17.33, or 6 to 7 points below the opening figures.

Even during periods when factors of an unusual character are not operative, a slackening of industrial activity before the year-end holidays is a familiar phase. That condition is accentuated now by the influence of the late speculative breakdown, yet it is reassuring that the record centuated now by the influence of the late speculative breakdown, yet it is result is speculative breakdown, yet it is the speculative breakdown, yet it is result in the result in the surface exidences of recession do not obscure, and their ultimate effect on actual business can scarcely fail to be constructive. Prominent among the supporting elements is the favorable inventory status in most channels, and the bearing of relatively small stocks of goods on future demand is obviously significant. With the further reducing of supplies, there is an increasing belief that early purchasing for replenishment may be necessary in different instances, and this expectation prevails both in the great steel trade and in textile branches. The present caution in buying results in an accompanying restriction of outputs, but the curtailment is being accomplished in an orderly way, and the easing of commodity prices remains gradual.

Announcement was also made of Announcement was also induce of two additions to the directors of the company, Claude A. McGinnis and William C. Drake, well-known Atlanta businessmen. Hugh C. Williams was elected sec-

Hugh C. Williams was elected secretary of the company to succeed W. G. Carpenter, who resigned in order to be able to devote his entire time to his new responsibilities as second vice president, in charge of mortgage production, of the Mortgage Guarantee Company of America.

H. C. Williams, vice president, announces that the net earnings of the company after all operating expenses had been paid were equivalent to nearly 6 per cent on a $000,000 investment, whereas the company paid only $600,000 for the building it is operating, about a year ago.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The recession became more pronounced in today's session in which a number of issues made new lows for the year, influenced by further extreme weakness in Yox Film and Montgomery Ward. Selling proceeded in substantial volume until shortly before the close, when a short but pronounced rallying movement effected a sizeable recovery from the day's lows in the leading trading issues.

Today's price movements appeared to have been determined largely by internal considerations of the market. No important entitled news developed beyond such as further confirmed the downward trend in industry.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—At the closing on Thursday the stock market averages stood within a fraction of 1 per cent of the previous resistance level which was reached on December 13. This situation brought in a large number of stop-loss orders in the early trading yesterday and the execution of these stop-loss orders induced a new wave of liquidation. Chart reading is far from infallible. However, precedent would indicate that the market averages could now decline another 10 to 15 points before meeting a new resistance level.

We see no important change of applicant.

Wind-Driven Fire Threatens Suburbs Until Subdued by 1,000 Men.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.-(49)-A brush fire, whipped by a 30-milean-hour wind, swept over the dry hillsides of beautiful Griffith Park on the edge of the city today, threw residents of the exclusive Los Feliz dis-trict into a panic and burned one home before the flames were brought under control by a thousand men after five hours of frantic effort.

Liquidation and Bear Attacks Combine To Force Declines

Associated Press Financial Editor. selling movement on the New York Curb Exchange, which has been under way for a fortnight, gathered increased momentum today, carrying most of the active issues down 1 to 8 points, and a sprinkling of specialties 10 to 45 points, with at least a score stocks pushed to new low ground for the year. While bear" attacks accounted for much of the day's selling, it also was apparent that steady liquidation of investment and speculative holdings was taking place as a result of the disappointing action of the market and business in general.

Public utilities melted rather rapidly under the pressure of a large volume of offerings. Electric Bond and Share fell nearly 6 points to 73 7-8 and rebounded to 75 1-4. Cities Service sank 2 1-4 points to 23, and made only a feeble recovery. The stock sold as low as 20 in the Nowember break and as high as 68 1-8 a few weeks before. Standard Power er & Light dropped 8 points, American & Foreign Power warrants 7 3-4, and a flock of others sagged 1 to 3 points.

Publication of an unofficial summary of the interstate commerce commission's revised railroad consolidation plan probably accounted for the drop in Penn road to a new low level for the year, as railroads stocks.

Hagen and Von Elm Tie for Lead in $4,000 Pasadena Open COACHES INDORSE ALL-STAR BATTLE

Famous Stars Turn in 69s, Two Under Par.

By Paul B. Zimmerman, Associated Press Sports Writer.
PASADENA. Calif., Dec. 20.—(P)
The fighting heart of George Von
Elm, Detroit, second ranking amateur

Elm, Detroit, second ranking amateur in America, today carried him through the opening round of the Pasadena $4,000 open golf tournament to a tie for first place with his fellow townsman, the great Walter Hagen, both turning in cards of 69 for the par 71 municipal golf course.

A quintet of outstanding professionals which included Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N. J., defending champion, with cards of 70 followed close on the heels of the Michigan pair, while three others finished in par, despite a sandstorm which swept the course during the morning round.

Von Elm, only a short time removed from a lengthy sojourn in the hospital, scored four birdies on the first nine for a 33, but weakened under the stress of action, to come home in one over perfect figures.

Waldron Inshed as darkness closed in on the 18th green.

Tied for third were Larry Montes, champion of the Philippines; Jimmy Foulis, Chicago, and Hutt Martin, Reno, Nev.

Foulis, Chicago, and Hutt Martin, Reno, Nev.

Darkness prevented half a hundred of the 225 entrants from completing their round, but indications were that scores of 78 would be necessary to qualify the low hundred for tomorrow's second 18. The low 60 and ties will continue in the final 18 Sunday.

Sharkey Seeking Campolo Fight

BOSTON. Dec. 20.—(P)—Jack Would dare buy? Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, wants to fight Victoro Campolo, huge Italian boxer in Miami this winter. He told W. L. Carey, head of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, as much in a conference between the two here

Sharkey and Johnny Buckley, his manager, told the New York promoter that the Italian appeared to be the most outstanding opponent and predicted that such a bout would be a financial success. Carey, however, has several other heavyweights in mind and asked Sharkey for more time to consider them.

Asked if the Madison Square Garden was seriously contemplating another "Battle of the Palms" for Miami,

"We are determined to have Sharkey box again at Miami and as long as he is on his feet we will go through with our plans."

Sharkey has been going through light workouts daily for the past few weeks.

"Just What I Wanted"

It was only a few days ago that I chanced on a published utterance of a Parisian haberdasher who lately had returned home from a visit to America.

Among other things he said:

"American men have atrocious taste in neckwear. I can say that in a month of going to and fro in the land I saw very, very few American men wearing becoming neckties. And their socks . . . . . . !!!"

That made me sore.

I, for one, never wear atrocious neckties. And I never wear tan socks with black shoes and so on. I select them myself.

Come to think of it I had never noticed neckties on anyone else nor gave a whoop but on behalf of the great American public, male division, I felt deeply insulted. I even planned to write a piece to the Temps about it.

ALL EXPLAINED NOW.

Sir Walter, displaying the best golf since his appearance in Southern California this winter, was out in par 36, but came back in 33. His card also showed a quartet of birdies.

Sharing second place with Wood was Horton Smith, pride of the Ozarks region; Densmore Shute, Columbus, Ohio; David Hackney, Lawrence, Mass., and Lew Waldron, Boston. Waldron finished as darkness closed in on the 18th green.

And then, just as I was about to create an international issue, and, if necessary, lead an expeditionary force that would begin fighting on landing at Brest instead of going on over toward the Rhine before loading up, I saw some figures that cooled me off.

The statistics were gathered in 12 New York retail stores.

The statistics showed the percentages of purchases made in those stores by men and by women. And then, just as I was about to create an international issue,

Specifically it revealed that women buy 63 PER CENT of the men's neckwear sold. Furthermore, women buy 75 PER CENT of the men's socks sold. I read no farther. I cancelled passage on the Isle De France. dismissed my expeditionary force and tore up the declaration

That explains it.

Women buy most of our neckties and socks. The atrocities in haberdashery seen by the visiting French artist were mostly bought by women. No wonder we look like walking massacres of good taste.

ACT QUICKLY MEN. .

And right now at this time the indignities are being heaped up against our appearance for next year. They are buying neckties and socks by the bale for us, right now at this Christ-

What are we going to do about it, men? Are we going to let them continue to make comic characters out of us?

Are we going to continue to wear neckties and socks no man

Why, of course we are! Merry Christmas!

IN A FOREIGN LAND.

At hand is a communication from N. W. Riley, Tech '27, who now lives in Richmond, Va. He deplores the fact that folks in his section cannot "see" nor talk of football in the southeastern section of the conference and admits he is snowed under with their fervid excitement in the race within the Virginia conference.

"My latest argument has been over the size of football crowds here and back home," he writes. "I contend that more people attended the Georgia-Alabama game that did the V. M. I.-V. P. I. game."

The paid attendance at the Georgia-Alabama game was a few tickets short of 25,000 according to reliable information. However, the little matter of 33,000 that saw the Yale-Georgia game and several crowds of 20,000 or thereabouts at Grant field should halt the boys up to the northward.

OFFICIAL OFFERS SERVICES.

Gus King, Centre college, '20, and a member of the Southern Football Officials' Association, writes in to offer his services gratis to work in the New Year's Day all-star game. He not only offers to pay all his expenses but says he will bring folks with him who will buy tickets.

"No finer charity could be imagined than for the crippled children's homes" he explains.

That is how officials, coaches and players are responding to Warmer Weather Predicted for Last Races of Year on New Oval.

Atlanta's last big sporting event of Atlanta's last big sporting event of the year, an eight-event automobile racing program on the new Atlanta speedway on Pace's Ferry road will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It will be the last outdoor event of the year and promises to be one of the most interesting of all previous automobile race programs here.

After a report from C. F. von Herrmann, local weather man, Friday morning it was decided definitely to hold the races. The severe cold wave has about spent itself and today will be much warmer, it was predicted.

Automobile racing fans will have their last opportunity to see some of the fastest dirt track cars in Amer-ica run today. Parking space, and programs will be free to the public. programs will be free to the public. Fourteen cars have been entered and each one has made several laps around the track this week, in preparation for today's events. Rick Decker, and Newell Barr left the city early in the week and will not race today. Decker returned to his home in New York to build a car which he expects to enter in the 500-mile Indianapolis race next May. Barr went to his home in Kalamazoo, Mich., to begin work on another racer.

Glenn Roberts, popular Atlanta driver who was nosed out in a five-mile event last Saturday, has tuned up his Frontenac and is ready for action. In several time trials during the week Roberts turned the track in less time than he made last Sat urday, which was 28 seconds, only two above the leaders.

two above the leaders.

Herman Schurch, who won four events last week and Charles Cyr, who finished second in four events are ready to renew their feud this afternoon. Schurch will pilot a Miller, while Cyr will drive his Frontenac.

Chester Gardner, another of the favorites and Bob Robinson, who won the feature event last Saturday, have made several minor adjustments on their machines and are ready to "air out" this afternoon. Gardner will drive a Duesenberg and Robinson will pilot a Miller. George Hamilton, manager of the speedway, will be the referee in charge.

The race has the official sanction of the contest board of the American Automobile Association and any record made in today's events will stand

SEASON ENDED AT KEENEY PARK

Track Officials Decide To Quit After Short Run.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 20.—
(P)—The Florida Jockey Club's racing meet at Keeney park, near here, faced with threatened injunction profaced with threatened injunction proceedings since its inauguration last Saturday, ended abruptly today by decision of the club's officials.

A statement issued by Frank A. Keeney, president, said it had been decided to close due to injunctive proceedings "contemplated by Fred O. Eberhardt and other reformers who see in racing not the clean sport it is, but a violation of state statutes relative to gambling." The meet was scheduled to run 27 days.

"The Florida Jockey Club has adopted a resolution closing the track for this meeting and until such time as the fair-minded citizens of the state of Florida shall insist that their legislators pass laws legalizing the state of Florida shall insist that their legislators pass laws legalizing the pari-mutuel system of betting," Mr. Keeney's statement said.

The decision was reached behind closed doors while a cheering throng watch the winner flash through the tape in the third race. The announcement followed shortly afterward.

Eberhardt had announced yesterday, through his attorney, H. L. Anderson, his intention to file injunction proceedings against the track at St. Augustine tomorrow, asking that Augustine tomorrow, asking that plant be closed on the ground t it was "a nuisance and a viola-n of the anti-gambling laws of Great Success; Capacity By Ralph McGill.

By Ralph McGill.

Dan McGugin, coach of the Vanderbilt Commodores, has written backers of the charity football game here on New Year's Day, expressing his hope that it will be a success.

"I hope the game in Atlanta on New Year's Day will raise a large sum of money for the crippled children," he wrote. "Certainly this is a worthy cause. I hope the expense will be just as little as possible. There are many helpless crippled children who, with proper treatment and attention, might be enabled to run and play.

"Now, if their big brothers, who can run and play on the athletic field, may be the means of providing funds for the helpless we should all get a great kick out of their game."

By George Kirksey, United News Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Dec. 20 .- (United News.) - Two important changes in football coaches were made today when Lud Wray, line coach, was promoted to head coach at the University of Pennsylvania, and Captain John J. McEwan was dropped as the PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20.—Carnegie Tech's basketball caudidates are to spend the Christmas holidays at their various homes and will not return until Thursday, the day after Christmas. The home opener for the Tartans will be staged January S against the Pitt cagers. The Skibos meet Pitt three times each year, and in the past two seasons the Panthers have captured all six contests. It will be quite a feather in the cap of the Skibos' new coach, Ralph H. Hogan, former Iowa University star, if he can this year mold together a combination to stop Pitt's winning streak over the Tartans.

From present indications Coach Hogan will probably start Captain George Nease and Logan Webster at the forwards in the opening tilt. Ralph Merten will get the center assignment, while Wayne High and Ellmer Schumacher are the leading candidates for the guard positions.

Columbia University will pay its new football coach $18,000 a year. Understand that I do not think that it is excessive pay. If Mr. Lou Little can do with the football material of Columbia what he has done with the football material of Georgetown University (and the probability is that might, for the football material that comes to Columbia is quite as good as that recruited by any university in the counfry) he will be earning that amount and more. ing that amount and more.

I am only wondering (and so are others) as to how the salary of the football coach compares with the salary paid to the head of an academic department. Or we might go outside the field of education and consider how the salary of a good football coach compares with that of a federal judge, a major general or an admiral. My notion in seeking these comparisons is not that the salary of the football coach should be cut, but that those of the college professors, the jurists, the generals and admirals should be hoisted a trifle.

The successful football coach produces tangible and obvious results-While all of them are preaching idealisms and railing against what the boys call sordid commercialism, the colleges are becoming more and more reconciled to receiving gate receipts. Institutions for igher education become increasingly

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS.

As an aftermath of the University of Iowa's differences with the other universities of the Western conference the charge is made that schedules in that section are made with a view of gathering the gate receipts. It develops that the expulsion of the University of lowa from the conference places that institution in an embarrassing position. It has a mortgage to lift from its new stadium and the falling off of gate receipts brings about some serious financial problems.

When you consider that more than 80,000 persons paid a third of a million dollars to see the Army-Notre Dame game this year, and that other big games drew gate receipts in proportion, you will see that football brings what the boys call important noney. It is so important that professional sports promoters gnash their teeth at the thought that all these profits should be diverted to intercollegiate football.

In addition to the financial side, which cannot be called exactly unimportant, there is the fact that universities realize that their best advertisement comes from successful football teams. This may be very deplorable, indeed, but it is nevertheless a fact, and some of the most conservative of the institutions of higher education are making concessions calculated to develop successful football teams. I will not name any of these, but you can look around and pick them for yourself.

The blatant Babbitt of the University of Kansas who resented the report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Investigation of Teaching emphasized this when he declared that the alumni of his alma mater would continue to aid good athletes to get college educations. He gathered that with a successful football team the total registration of the University of Kansas rapidly would reach 10,000 or better.

From this point of view-and it seems to be more or less general-Penn Tonight

From this point of view—and it seems to be more on the football team than on the success of a university depends more on the football team than on the faculty. I do not admit that this is entirely true, but there must be the faculty. I do not admit that this is entirely true, but there must be the faculty. something in it. The coach, then, if not so important as the president, must be regarded as almost as important and should be paid accordingly.

THE WAGES OF COACHES.

Take the case of Mr. Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame University. The statisticians report that for the season just passed Notre Dame played class with an average speed of 93.123 to gate receipts of $1,300,000 in all sections of the country. Another game would have made it a million and a half. Of course all this was not at Miami on March 25. clear profit, and all the gate receipts did not go to Notre Dame.

But consider the value of a man like Knute Rockne in the open put consider the value of a man like Knute Rockne in the open professional sports market. If anybody should come to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of the Yankess; Charles A. Stoneham, of the Giants, or Mr. William F. Carey, of Madison Square Garden, and say, "I can take a squad of volunteer athletes, on no salary, and, working them nine exhibitions in a season, can bring you in a gross of a million and a half, about 40 per cent of which will be net. How much a year will you pay me?" naturally a professional pross of a million and a half, about 40 per cent of which will be net. How much a year will you pay me?" naturally a professional promoter would be inclined to be liberal in replying to that offer. As it is, Notre Dame University pays Knute Rockne $10,000 a year, and Mr. Rockne seems satisfied. He is an energetic individual, and in the off season has many occupations. An executive of that ability hardly could be overpaid.

Denied Help in Trade Mart, New Pilot Must Use Old Bean.

By Irving Vaughan.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—In the absence of help via the trade route, Donie Bush, who has been given the task of reknitting Comiskey's White Sox, has come to the conclusion that a little ingenuity will have to be attempted. He himself will furnish it and apply it. Whether it will solve his most pressing problem—the infield in something else again, but a little research work has done wonders in many baseball cases and the same can happen again.

many baseball cases and the same can happen again.

Bush, since taking charge of the Sox, has been quoted at length about his real needs being an outfielder, an infielder, a catcher and a pitcher. He could use all four if they exceeded the average run of talent, but is convinced he is not going to get the four or even one. As a matter of fact, he feels that in a pinch three of the situations will solve themselves, but it's the infield that is going to require study, and unless the second sack combination is adjusted, he is in for a bothersome season.

WAS A BOZOP

Mr. Poole was what is known as a Bozop with the Crackers. A Bozop is a washed-up ball player. He was offered hither and you but none wanted Mr. Poole because word had gone out that he was a Bozop and no one wants a Bozop. So Mr. Poole hung around the Cracker park drawing serious money and eating hearty. It was during the spring training days and the cats were on the house.

The Cracker officials used to step out of the office, see Mr. Poole languidly exercising, and seek in the office and fan view.

A lot of Bush's hope has been deposited in the person of Ernest H. Smith, who was snared from the Birmingham Southern association team with which he was more than an ordinary shortstop. Having paid a large of things at Nashville.

Comiskey wasn't in need of another man for the berth at this early date, but it so happens that Bill Cissell,
the boy whose services came high,
hasn't proved to be up to advance notices or price.

Cissell apparently has ability, but Cissell apparently has ability, but is not steady. At times he is a veritable flash, and it must have been on one or several of these days that Comiskey's scouts saw him and recommended his purchase. At other times he can't pick up a grounder with a shovel. His trouble is a tendency to let the ball play him and to show too much speed when speed isn't necessary. Bush, having been something of a shortstop himself, might be able to correct the faults. Then again Cissell might not show his present weaknesses if employed as a second sacker.

Star Fielder at Birmingham.

Smith did such a neat job of his playing with Birmingham that a number of big league clubs were scouting him. Just why no purchase was made and he was permitted toaget away in the draft isn't known. Anyway, the baseball gentlemen who make a business of snooping around and looking 'em over in the summer declare the lad has marked fielding ability. He hit .313 last season and almost one-third of his hits were for extra bases. Washington had him in 1928 but turned him over to Birmingham, where he remained until drafted this fall. He began business at McAlester, Okla., in 1922 and that same year was purchased by Kansas City. He then drifted around Memphis and Little Rock and back to Kansas City for 1926 and '27. He was purchased from the Blues by Washington.

Smith is to have his chance to beat Cissell out of the short job and if he does it Cissell will be available for a fling at second base. There is another shortstop candidate available in Irvine Frasier, the former Kentucky varsity athlete who has been recalled from Dallas. He had a big year down there, but probably will prove a bit too inexperienced for big league employment. He has had only two seasons of minor league ball. It is likely that he, too, will be asked, during the spring training siege, to show whether he has any natural aptitude for second base.

Then There's Hunnefield.

Then There's Hunnefield.

Then There's Hunnefield.

Mr. William Hunnefield also is lingering on the club roster. Bill has been in and out of the regular lineup so often that the world has ceased to take him seriously, but where there is life there is hope. Apparently laden with ability, Hunnefield never has fallen under the wing of a manager who could keep him steamed up. A little spat would send him into a sulk and he'd denounce the entire club. him into a sulk and he'd denounce the entire club. Bush might be the man to keep him in line. Several clubs are willing to take him in trade, and that is fair proof that he is not a complete false alarm.

Hunnefield and Cissell are exact opposites in temperament. Hunnefield wilts under adversity and has to get out of the lineup. Cissell boots 'em all over the lot and comes up smiling. Give Hunnefield the disposition of the $75,000$ shortstop and you'd have a $75,000 shortstop and you'd have a $75,000 second baseman.

Speedboats Set Two New Marks

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 .- (United News.)-Two important additions to motor boat racing records were established during the 1929 season, a review of the sport disclosed today.

Gar Wood drove Miss America VII to a new world record in the unlimited miles per hour. This record was made at Miami on March 25.

H. G. Ferguson, of Balboa, Cal., drove an outboard in time trials at a speed of 48.4 miles per hour.

These records, while only two of the new marks established, were so far in excess of previous performances as to put them in a special class.

No less than=76 new records were set in outboard motor boat racing. Richard F. Hoyt, owner and driver of Imp, averaged 48.541 miles per hour for three heats of 30 miles each to set a record in that class.

Harry B. Greening, of Toronto, drove Rainbow VII at ah average speed of 63.17 miles per hour in a 12-hour endurance event at Lake Rosseau, Canada, September 30.

Two records were established on October 6. Ralph Snoddy made a mile trial record of 52.585 miles per hour at Newport Beach, Cal., driving his entry in the 151 cubic inch displacement class, while Dick Loynes drove the same type boat in the minited class at a rate of 51.342 miles per hour.

Vols' Short Fence Called Unto Cullop

Nick Wanted To Follow Jim Poole To Nashville But the Judge Balked Him.

Word from Nashville, Tenn-O-See, as contained in Mr. Blinky Horn's column in the Tennessean, is that Mr. Nick Cullop was all prepared to sign a contract with Mr. Clarence (Pants) Rowland, the debonair manager of the Vols, had he, Mr. Cullop, been declared a free agent as per his plea of a few days ago.

Mr. Rell Spiller, sitting in as his capacity of business manager of the Crackers, was in a state known as flabbergasted when he heard the news reported by Mr. Horn. He squirmed as if he felt a knife in the small of his back.

"Well, well, well, well, is that so?" he asked feebly.

There was no hint that Mr. Cullop had connived, as we say at the discussion club, in the affair. Still it all comes as a shock to the Atlanta fans because they have never forgot Mr. Jim Poole and the antics of the Nashville Vols in that case.

Now, Mr. Poole was no bargain in the other parks over the league. It was at Nashville that he did his hitting. It was down in the old, garish dell that he did his home-running.

For at Nashville, Tenn-O-See they play 10 men on the team. Old Robert Rightfield Pfence plays very close up to the home plate, indeed. Pop flies explore the territory beyond him. American Legion officials have staged two fights within the past few months in their first attempt at promoting boxing matches. Each of the fights was a success and proved very popular with the crowd. The second fight last Tuesday night between Goodrich and Clyde Hull, the rugged Fort Worth, Texas, battler, failed to draw the expected crowd, but due to rain a large number of fans were prevented from attending the fight.

Bass Sends Champion Down for Count in Second Round.

> By Frank Getty, United News Sports Editor.

United News Sports Editor.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
NEW YORK, Dec. 20. — (United News.)—Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, fulfilled the predictions of the experts and justified the wagering which made him a 5-to-1 favorite by knocking out Tod Morgan, of Seattle, in the second round of their fight for the junior lightweight championship before a small crowd in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Whether Bass will be recognized as the new 130-pound titleholder depends, however, upon an investigation to be instituted by the New York state athletic commission.

athletic commission.

Meanwhile the purses of the fight have been held up by the order of Chairman James Farley, pending an

The "wise money" was laid on Bass at the astounding odds of 5 to 1. In the first round, however, Morgan seemed to have all the better of the fighting, driving his challenger about the ring with swift but seemingly light punches, lightning left jabs and right crosses to the head.

With the crowd in an uproar, Bass came out for the second round cool as a fiddler and proceeded to knock Morgan out with two well directed righthand punches to the jaw. The first time Tod went down on his face, barely able to rise at the count of nine. Another right-hand to the jaw ended the bout, with Morgan struggling gamely but vainly to regain his feet.

The boxing commission took immediate action, promising an exhaustive investigation of all the circumstances surrounding the bout, particularly the prohibitive odds on the challenger.

THRILLING.

THRILLING. THRILLING.

The fight was thrilling while it lasted, the former champion opening up with a slashing two-fisted attack which swept the challenger around the ring and had Bass shaky at the bell.

The end came quickly in the second round when the new champion, recovering quickly from his punishment, carried the fight to Morgan. "A left hook sent Tod to the ropes and a right cross a moment later dropped him flat on his face for the count of nine.

As gallantly as he has defended the championship during the past four years, so did the handsome youngster from the far coast lose it tonight. He staggered up at the count of nine, gamely facing, his eager opponent.

DOWN AGAIN. Another right cross flush to the jaw sent Morgan down again, prone in the resin, while the roar of the gamblers, who had made Bass a 5-to-l favorite, rose to the rafter of the Garden. Again Tod tried to get up, but this time his limbs would not answer the command of his fighting heart and he sank back to the canvas, completely knocked out.

heart and he sank back to the canvas, completely knocked out.

Bass was resting comfortably in a corner, smiling and waving to friends at the ringside.

There was only a small crowd out to see the junior lightweight title, which Morgan won by stopping Mike Ballerino back in 1925, change hands.

taken little toll for in the second Bass was strong as a young bull, and it was only a question of seconds once he opened up a cross-fire at the former champion's jaw.

Bass, a Philadelphian, has made an impressive record of late. His last hid for a title was when he fought Tony Canzoneri for the featherweight championship, losing the decision after.

THE FASTEST BACK.

Dear Mr. Rice: You said that Jack Elder was the fastest man in football during the season just closed. You have overlooked Cy Leland, of Texas Christian. That boy ran for 11 touchdowns down in the southwest this last season. He won the trophy for being the most valuable man in the conference for his work in contributing to Texas Christian's undefeated championship season. I know about that boy's speed. I had the honor of being track coach there last year and I saw him run the hundred in 9.5 seconds during the season. This was not bush league timing either. On every occasion he was timed with three or more stop watches. As a needed addition, I know that one time was not a fluke because he did it seven times during that season and the timing was as before. He placed fourth in the hundred and two-twenty in the national

He beat Bracey, of Rice, in the two-twenty in the conference meet. He beat Simpson at the Southern Methodist relays. He did all that as a sophomore. He was second in the conference season of football in scoring. I played down there and know a bit about their football. I saw the team of Southern Methodist that Army beat 14-13 last year, and was lucky to do it, beaten twice and tied by other conference teams. Texas A. M. that tied Nebraska this year and beat Kansas Aggies about 40 to 0, was next to last in the standing at the latter part of the season. of the season.

I refereed the first scrimmage of the year for Texas Christian and since then have seen Michigan play Ohio State, Harvard and Iowa. In that early season scrimmage that little Texas team exhibited better football than Michigan showed up till the Harvard game. Out of all these teams that I have seen play this year, Harvard showed more than any of them, and outside of that team I honestly believe the little Texas school had the best machine.

Getting back to the Leland boy, there is no telling what he could do in sprinting under good coaching. I don't claim to know much about track. That boy made good in spite of my puny efforts. He is a brilliant fellow, making a straight A average in his studies. HARVE LIGHT, Ann Arbor, Mich

Have Not Reported for Court Work.

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 20.—Two Gators who have been outstanding in basketball at the University of Floriday for the past two years—Dale VanSickel, captain and guard, and Clyde Crabtree, for two seasons the leading scorer, have not yet reported to Coach Brady Cowell and in all likelihood will be lost to the hops squad for the coming campaign.

Absence of several candidates, who left early this week for Christmas vacation jobs, has slowed up the practice of the Florida basketeers. Coach Cowell, facing a rather glum outlook, leading prospects probably will not be able to return.

Four of the most promising players of the season are freshmen from last year, a fact which certainly will not cause Florida to be looked upon as a strong team in the south this year, and at the present time Coach Cowell's strongest five embraces this quartet, and Dale "Muddy" Waters, veteran grard, who will take rank as one of the finest defensive players in Dixie.

Outside Business Affairs Force Diamond Veteran To Withdraw.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Bill Carrigan, who piloted the Boston Red Sox to two world championships, today resigned that baseball berth for the second time in 13 years. He told President Bob Quinn, who visited him at his home in Lewiston, Maine, that he had to quit baseball or neglect his own affairs.

he had to quit baseban or neglect allown affairs.

When Quinn returned to Boston tonight, he said he was not ready to announce Carrigan's successor, who probably will be "Heinie" Wagner, "Wild Bill's" first lieutenant for many years.

"After a real man to man talk with Carrigan," Quinn said, "I am satisfied that it would be impossible for him to continue to manage the Red Sox and at the same time give his own sox and at the same time give his own affairs the proper attention, and I am not selfish enough to try and prevail on him to remain with our club under such circumstances. I realize fully that any man owes more to the welfare of his family and his private business than he does to outside interests.

REGRETS ACT.

"With the deepest regret I accept his resignation. Our relations for the past three years have been most cordial. I found him to be one of the very finest characters with whom it has ever been my good fortune to have been associated."

Carrigan, in announcing his decision over the telephone from Lewiston, said: "I told Bob Quinn if it were a case of life and death with him I would not think of leaving the Red Sox, but I do not feel that the condition is such.

There is positively no other reason for my decision."

OUR CLUB - By Seckatary Hawkins

OH GOLLY! WE RAN OVER HIM. GEE WHIZ! WE ALL THING-BUT-IT WAS TOO LATE. WE SAW THE LITTLE FELLOW LYING IN THE ROAD -HIS CAP ON ONE SIDE, HIS SATCHEL ON THE OTHER.

OY DOBEL TOOK THE SLEIGH AND WENT AFTER DOC WATERS. I MADE A FIRE IN THE STOVE. JERRY AND LEW GOT SOME WATER AND WASHED THE BOY'S FACE, BUT THEY COULDN'T BRING HIM TO. THEN, THANK GOODNESS, DOC WATERS ARRIVED.

HAT ON EARTH HAVE YOU BEEN DOING, HAWKINS?"
YELLED DOC. I COULDN'T TALK. I JUST MOTIONED
TO THE BUNK. DOC GOT BUSY. "YOU BOYS GO HOME," HE SAID, "I'LL STAY HERE WITH THIS YOUNGSTER TONIGHT." WHICH HE DID.
6 BYE TILL MONDAY.

of Tarzan held longest in his memory. No savage ceasts menaced him; there was no sign of hideous barbarians. But crouched close to the great ape in the crotch of the tree the boy shivered through a sleepless night. Fear had thrust him into the jungle, a fugitive, and because of the murder by the ape he thought he could never return to his parents to bring shame upon their honored name.

Self-blame plunged him into deep misery. Through the night he longed to die, but with the rising sun his spirits rose. He would return to civilization by another way, avoiding the little trading place where even now the body of the stranger so mysteriously slain was being discovered. He shook Akut into wakefulness. "Come," he said, "I am cold and hungry. We must search for food out there."

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1929.

He pointed to the open plain and slid to the ground. The ape looked carefully about first, sniffing the morning air. Then, satisfied that no danger lurked near, he descended slowly to the boy's side. "Numa and Sabor, his mate, feast upon those who descend first and look afterward," said the old ape, giving the son of Tarzan his first les-son in jungle lore. Side by side they set off across the rough plain, running until the boy was warm. REAL ESTATE FOR RENT | REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Some eggs they found and these he sucked raw, as also he ate the roots and tubers which Akut unearthed. The ape contented himself with some ing close upon its heels, his every sense alert, his nerves keyed to a high pitch of excitement. This

The sale of articles made by the blind, which has just been completed, proved a success from many angles, it was reported Friday. Money for Christmas as well as to provide necessities for blind women, resulted from the sale of their handiwork. It also gave the seeing public a better idea of the perfection of the handwork of sightless people, and will encourage the public in buying articles made by the blind. OF HER DAUGHTER Mrs. C. R.
